BOURNEMOUTH

This all-year-round resort has 2,000 acres of public parks and gardens, and six miles of beaches. The deep ravines ('Chines') provide excellent wooded walkways down to the shore.

There is a good shopping centre, and the International Centre which has its own swimming pool, restaurant, bars, theatres and concert hall. There are interesting museums, including one of typewriters.

CAMBRIDGE

Britain's second-oldest university city, with 23 colleges, the oldest dating from 1284. See the finest fan-vaulting in Europe in King's College Chapel, or stroll round the beautiful 'backs' and walk across the meadows to Granchester, made famous in Rupert Brooke's poem. In May Week (which is in June and is 10 days!) the town is alive with student activities of every kind.

HASTINGS & ST LEONARDS

Popular twin resorts with long shingle beaches. Hastings, one of the original Cinque Ports, is the busier town, with its pier and fun park, Fisherman's Museum, Art Gallery, Music Festival and Tennis Tournament. St Leonards is more peaceful. St. Clements Caves, once used by smugglers, are worth a visit.

NORWICH

A charming old city, on the banks of the river Wensum, and once a centre for the worsted trade. It has a magnificent Norman cathedral, in which Edith Cavell is buried, and Horatio Nelson was a pupil at the old Grammar School. There are also some 30 parish churches, a number of which are notable. Elm Hill, in the city, is considered to be one of the finest medieval streets remaining in Britain.

PORTSMOUTH & SOUTHSEA

Portsmouth has been a naval dockyard since the days of Richard Coeur de Lion. Here you can see Nelson's flagship (HMS Victory), the D-Day Museum (including the D-Day Embroidery) and a new museum housing the Mary Rose.

Southsea is a popular resort with a good beach and funfair for children. The Castle, built by Henry VIII, houses the Royal Navy Museum.

SALISBURY

Salisbury was founded after the nearby Old Sarum was abandoned for lack of water. On the banks of the Avon, and dominated by its great Cathedral with the tallest spire in England, this beautiful city has many fine buildings including old inns such as the George, where Samuel Pepys slept in 1668.

KIDS OUT QUIDS IN

This Summer treat the children to an enjoyable day out with our special offer in the London and South-East area. Until you try it, you will not believe how cheap it is.

Groups of two up to a maximum of five people can travel together between virtually any two stations within the specified area. The first adult pays the second class Cheap Day Return fare at the usual price and everyone else (adults or children) pays just £1 each up to a maximum of four. Children under 5 travel free and do not count in the party total (unless the only child in the party). Every party must include a child (fare paying or not). Outward travel maybe undertaken anytime Saturdays, Sundays and Bank Holidays and after 0930 on Mondays to Fridays. Return the same day.

For full details of this bargain offer which runs until 8 September 1985, please ask for the "Kids Out, Quids In" leaflet at your local station or rail-appointed Travel Agent.

CHEAP DAY RETURNS

½ PRICE WITH A RAILCARD

Cheap Day Return tickets are fantastic value for shorter distance day trips. They can save you nearly ½ the normal fare.

Travel out by any train taking you cross country. And go into or through London anytime Saturday or Sunday, and generally on any weekday trains leaving after 09.00. Return on any train the same day.

If you hold a Railcard you can save even more – up to ½ the Cheap Day Return fare. That's almost ¼ the normal fare.

Children under 16 travel half price and children under 5 go free.

Our trains will get you where you're going fast. So you can make the most of your day out, whether you're sightseeing, shopping or visiting friends.

Go by train. It's easy, convenient and our Cheap Day Returns make it better value than ever before.
